

New Catalog for 2013!

The Cut Glass of Mt. Washington

The Mount Washington Glass Works, founded in Boston in 1837, moved to New Bedford, MA in 1869 and was absorbed by Pairpoint in 1894. Mt. Washington is perhaps best known today for pioneering the production of art glass in America, but it also produced fine American Brilliant cut glass when it introduced a cutting department in the 1870's, following its move to New Bedford.

The ACGA is publishing in 2013 a collection of Mt.

Washington's cut glass catalogs. The compendium includes seven of the earliest Mt. Washington catalogs, featuring cut glass circa 1880 through the 1890's. We are pleased to announce that Jane Shadel Spillman, Curator of American Glass at The Corning Museum of Glass, is writing an introduction to the compendium.

The originals are found primarily in the archives of the Rakow Research Library of the Corning Museum of Glass. Other materials have been plucked from the collection and archives of the New Bedford Museum of Glass, the New Bedford Whaling Museum, and supplemented with photographs of Mt. Washington pieces from ACGA collectors. The illustrations are taken from earlier Mt. Washington cut glass catalogs, circa 1880 – 1887. We anticipate the publication will include around 300 pages and it will include a comprehensive pattern index. Expected availability is July, 2013. Prices include USPS Media Mail shipping. To order, fill out the form below and mail it, along with your check made payable to the American Cut Glass Association, to:
