Note: The main ALA conference location is at Orange County Convention Center. This meeting will take place at the Lake George Room in the Hilton Orlando next to the Convention Center (one of the co-HQ hotels). While it is walkable, Hilton advises that we take the shuttle from the convention center, which runs every 10-15 minutes. (See location and shuttle information below.)

The meeting will begin with lightning round talks from the following presenters:

Collaborating Across Departments for Image Metadata

Description:

The Digital Projects & Preservation Department and the Discovery Enhancement Department, each within the Technical Services Division of the Thomas G. Carpenter Library, have collaborated to ensure that metadata is embedded in image-based collections in the institutional repository. Our initial project is nearly complete and now we have begun a second. The first project utilized freeware so that staff members in Discovery Enhancement, who did not have access to the Adobe Suite, could embed metadata and geographic coordinates. Now that a campus-wide agreement has provided access to Adobe Photoshop Lightroom, members of the team can apply metadata using presets based on a data dictionary. The collaboration has allowed more content to be posted to the institutional repository and harnessed existing skill-sets in new ways.

Sculpting Visual-Literate Spaces and Learners

Description:

What do you envision when you hear “learning space”? Do you see a traditional classroom with rows of tables and chairs facing a board? But how does this work to promote visual literacy, or function when you don’t have the space for a classroom? Visual literacy requires more than seeing an image or video on a large screen, it requires collaboration and touch in today’s digital age. Two librarians sought to break from tradition and create accommodating learning spaces that promote visual literacies. Learn the good, the bad, and the ugly they encountered while breaking down the traditional classroom and incorporating mobile and interactive technologies aligned with visual literacy pedagogies.

She also serves as the Director of the Art Librarianship Program, Secretary to the Executive Board of the Visual Resources Association, and Vice-Moderator to the Visual Resources Division of ARLIS.

What is the charge for the 2016-2017 convener?

The group's founding purpose is "To provide a forum for ongoing discussion of the unique issues presented by the development and support of interdisciplinary image resources in academic libraries."

Volunteer for Incoming Convener for 2016-2017. This person will transition to Convener for the 2017-2018 year.

Volunteer for Listserv/Website Administrator: This is an important communication role. We are looking for a volunteer to serve during the coming year.

Do we have too many methods of communication?
